

Artist Statement: 27th Annual Exhibition of Artists in Michigan Prisons

Artist Name: Nicholas Brangenburg

I love all kinds of art I want to be the type of artist that takes on any style and make it my own I started when I was 12 with cartoons as I grew to my 20's I started more real life pieces like faces and backgrounds then try my other ways it is a great stress reliever. I come up with a lot of ideas by the feel of my mood or by thoughts of the past a happy or sad reminder of my past and a great piece is Born (Reaching for a Change) is a piece about what this world is going thru and has really changed how life looks so Reaching for a Change is my way of saying I wish I could change things but first I need to change myself. Repair shop eye candy reminds me of a car shop by my home we ^{looked} ~~at~~ at before ^{returning} home
The Rest are Random Ideas thank you for letting me
