

Artist Name:

Odies Murray

I am a poet, and I wrote this poem after reading about the Painter Basquiat while I was in the hole. Basquiat was a young painter that died in the 80^s from a drug overdose. Many other Black artists from that era died that same way, so I decided to put them in the poem also. I drew the pictures to show a vivid image of what I'm saying in the poem. If you don't know the artist I'm writing about for sure you will know the pictures of the drugs that killed them.