Blazing Bells

I've only recently started to do artwork. I chose colored pencils as a medium to be used primarily and some ink in a few situations to be ~~is~~ used secondarily. Unfortunately, my work being displayed isn't as original as other pieces I've done, however, I didn't have any of those other pieces available.

I get a real peace while doing artwork. I often put on classical music and just fade into the beautiful colors and shapes. I can lose hours in complete serenity. It is a lovely experience.
