Decay, Self Portrait

I have been drawing for a while now. However, I have recently started to paint. I create art to show people what I feel on the inside. Not many people know how I truly feel. I show my feelings through my art instead of verbally. It's my way of coping. My "Self portrait" is about me seeing too much in my life and the freedom I've felt about coming out. My Cardinal painting is about my Mom. Her favorite bird is a cardinal and I thank her for adopting me and giving me a life.
