

Artist Name: Carl Wiertalla

When I was young, I knew I could draw well but didn't do anything with it. Two and a half years ago, I tried painting and loved it. I don't have any formal training but hope someday to take a class or two. My subjects I paint are random and usually inspired by photos or other forms of art. Every time I paint, I learn something new. I just wish I started years ago. Hope you like what you see! Thank You!
