

Artist Statement: 27th Annual Exhibition of Artists in Michigan Prisons

Artist Name: Milton Lyle "Big Lyle"

I have drawn all my life I wanted to own a comic company when I was in college but my father destroyed my licence and work. I wish to show unspeakable truth Even in my case I admitted guilt cause I was wrong and thats the truth. I thought of this for a while and tried to show the hard fact or even fear that lingers on the side of the condemned. In the end I was looking to convey a sense of sadness within the outside an inside of prison to be alive but dead to everyone but the closest to be present but can do nothing to protect or guide or even matter on the damage that's been done to someone more than the Victims of the crime that ones creations are close to home.
