

Artist Name: Elva McClure

Born into a creative family I learned how to express myself through several art mediums.

Selfexpression through my art gives me a release of emotion, relaxes my anxiety and helps me focus.

The mediums in this art is what was on hand. I am familiar with watercolors and like the multiple ways they can be used.

I would like my work to be uplifting to others. The world is full of darkness and I would like to bring a little light into the world.
