

Ronald Forsyth

26-20

Wilderness Retreat

My whole reasoning on building this log home is thinking of something that my kids would enjoy playing with. This model home was created from my vision of how I would like to have my own log home laid out.

This model home was built out of glue, paper, card stock, pop-sickle sticks and card board. The field stone work on the foundation and chimney was made from card board and toilet paper with glue mix.

All the furniture is made from card stock and paper. All the paint work is acrylic paints, and the flag is made from beads.

The roof can be lifted off and both upper floors can be removed to be able to see the main floor living space.

I hope everyone enjoys this model home because I have really enjoyed building it the past 6 months.