

DeWayne T-Rowe Jr.

137-20

Love, sacrifices, salvation

Limited to a medium consisting of Ink pen's and paper, I wanted to absolutely get the most out of each of my utensils, hence the black, blue, grey and white ~~to~~ color scheme. But each main focal point in the Drawing is ~~synt~~ symbolic to something. Such as the clouds, they symbolize the constant inconsistency not only with myself but also with in the world. The Birds symbolize being free from that inconsistency. The Rose's symbolize the delicate yet Beautiful things in this world. And the cross wrapped in the Banner is pretty much self explanatory, I feel that Love, salvation and sacrifice are ultimately what the cross stands for.