

Artist Name: Clois "A.B.V.O.G." Bell

For me... my art is therapeutic... it helps me heal from self-inflicted wounds. My art is spiritual... as I ~~can~~ exercise my God given ability... I find connection to my purpose. And in this very confined... controlled... stagnated environment... I use my art... & my creative process... to generate growth for myself. I feel like my art is the key... to open doors... & put me in the rooms God needs me to be in. And I look forward to the endless possibilities... that await me along my artistic journey. May all those I meet on my path... be blessed to be better... after our encounter.
