Art gives me a healthy escape from prison, self expression source of revenue, a way to encourage others, and an opportunity to give and support causes in agreement. Prison Creative Arts Project gives me something positive to look forward to every year. For me, twenty years looked forward to the PCA.P. art show, eighteen of them, I participated in. This experience with PCA.P. and art has brought me high levels of gratitude and gratefulness. I am grateful for restored humanity with every interaction and every piece of art. I receive a little more of my humanness and share it with others.

The multitude of methods that light separates and combines is fascinating to me. I work to re-create the wonders of light from the sun and in nature. Nature is my favorite place to think of. As I am unable to physically experience nature, I create it in my mind and then on paper.

Oh, how I love thee.

You are like the purity
where purity is no more.

Until someone holds the door.

I will be here

Waiting with open ear
For the call to restore.
