

Artist Name: Christopher Sindore (Chris)

I'm an artist, but usually my canvas is a building or piece of heavy equipment. I'm an Industrial/Commercial Painter which is why I created my second piece "Tools of my trade." I was feeling a little homesick, and was talking about work, the guy I was talking to didn't understand so I built the models to explain how I work.

my first piece "POA Got me feelin like..." is a little whimsy. I have been drawing the ~~character~~ ^{character} since I was about ten years old. P.O.A., is the Prison Suicide watch. we sit and watch the suicidal inmates so they can't do what they want to do. Sometimes though it just feels kinda strange weird watching like we do, so my old character popped into my head one day, I drew him and a guy told me I should enter him into the Arts program, so I made the piece. I thought the popsicle stick fence and 3D hat bill made it more ~~realistic~~ lifelike so that's what I used.

I hope everyone enjoys it and it makes people smile and laugh ^{at it} about ^{the} pretty serious subject of mental illness and the suicide watch and the necessity for P.O.A.
